

Slang website Terms and Conditions

Welcome! This is the website of Lengio Corporation and all of its subsidiaries ("Slang").

All users of the website slangapp.com (the "Website") agree to comply with these Terms of Service regarding the use of the Website (the "Terms"), which, by accessing and/or using the Website, you unconditionally agree to. If you do not agree in whole or in part to these Terms, do not continue to access the Website.

Through the Website, you can obtain information about the products and/or services offered by Slang, create a user account to access the paid or free courses offered by Slang to natural persons, request a demo, access the mobile application download, chat with our bot, access our social networks, apply to our job vacancies, among others.

Please note that in case you purchase any of the services offered by Slang, the terms and conditions of the Learning Platform, which can be found in the Legal Hub, will be applicable to you.

Modification of terms

Slang reserves the right to update these Terms at any time by posting its updated version on the Website. Please review these Terms regularly, as you will be deemed to have accepted all changes if you continue to use the Website after the Terms have been updated. If you do not agree to comply with these Terms, we recommend that you do not use the Website in any way. In the event that you remain silent about the new modifications, it will be understood that you accept the changes made.

Website access

Due to the nature of the Internet, Slang cannot guarantee the continuous and uninterrupted availability and accessibility of the Website. Thus, Slang shall not be liable if the Website is unavailable at any time (in whole or in part). Slang reserves the right to suspend, withdraw, discontinue or change all or part of the Website without notice.

Intellectual property rights

The trademarks, notices, commercial names, graphics, and, in general, all the material published on the Website (the "Material") are the exclusive property of Slang or of third parties who have previously and expressly authorized Slang to use them.

In all circumstances, the Material is protected by intellectual property rights. Such Material must be used by You for informational purposes only, and any other use or exploitation by any means, such as copying or distribution, is prohibited without the prior express consent of Slang.

Any infringement or attempted infringement of our intellectual property rights in the Material, including but not limited to reproduction, distribution, marketing, rental, lending, communication, dissemination, copying, modification, display, transmission, or publication, without our prior written consent is expressly prohibited and punishable under applicable law.

Possible copyright infringement

If you believe that any content on our Services infringes your copyright, you may request that such content be removed. This request must bear a signature (or electronic equivalent) of the copyright holder or an authorized representative and must include the following information:

- Identification of the copyrighted work that you believe to be infringed, including a description of the work and, where possible, a copy or the location of an authorized version of the work;
- identification of the content that you believe to be infringing and its location, including a description of the content and its Website location or other pertinent information that will help Slang to locate such content;
- your name, address, telephone number, and email address (this data will be treated in accordance with our Privacy Policy, which you should review before submitting); and
- a statement that you have a good faith belief that the complained of use of the material is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law.

The claim can be made by sending an e-mail to the following e-mail address: legal@slangapp.com.

Site content

Slang takes the necessary precautions to ensure that the information published on the Website is accurate. However, it does not warrant and cannot be responsible for its accuracy. Please note that the information published on the Website may change at any time without notice.

Slang does not offer its Users any warranty of any kind as to the operation of the Website, and states that, as long as no product or service offered to the public is purchased, no consumer relationship is formed between You and Slang, and the Website will be for information purposes only. When purchasing any service or product offered by Slang, in addition to these terms of use of the site, the terms and conditions of the user and/or clients will be applicable. You can find them at the Legal Hub.

Slang shall not be liable for any loss or damage, whether direct or indirect (including consequential, special, or incidental loss of profit), which may result from the use, in whole or in part, of the Website.

The Website may contain links to other websites whose terms and conditions shall be those specified on such websites. Slang does not in any way endorse such terms and, accordingly, Slang shall have no responsibility and assumes no liability with respect to their content.

Malware

Slang shall in no event be liable for the occurrence of viruses or malware during the operation of the Website.

You acknowledge and agree that you are responsible for configuring any information technology, software, website, among other protection or anti-virus, to access the Website and prevent the appearance of viruses or malware.

Users' obligations

Users must comply with all obligations expressed in these terms and conditions, as well as those determined in other documents, including, but not limited to, other contracts entered into with Slang. In addition to these obligations, Users shall have the following:

- Provide truthful, accurate, current, and authentic information regarding their identity;
- give Slang notice of any irregularity or illegality of which you become aware that has occurred or is occurring on the Website;
- refrain from making publications and/or acts that infringe the intellectual property rights of third parties;
- read and fully understand these terms and conditions;

- read, fully understand, and accept Slang's privacy policy before providing any data;
- refrain from uploading, distributing, or sending files that contain viruses, corrupted files, or any other similar software or programs that may harm or damage the operability of the Website;
- refrain from modifying, disassembling, decompiling, or reverse engineering the Website;
- refrain from testing, vulnerability scanning, or attempting to circumvent security mechanisms implemented on websites, servers, or networks connected to or related to the Website;
- refrain from accessing or using the information of other customers or third parties through the Website without being duly authorized to do so;
- refrain from deliberately reducing or impeding the accessibility, usability, or operability of the Website; and
- refrain from using the Website to post, promote, or transmit any unlawful, abusive, defamatory, threatening, harmful, or discriminatory material or content.

The User shall hold harmless Slang, as well as its subsidiaries, controlled companies, controlling companies, officers, directors, and administrators, for any claim initiated by other Users, third parties, or by any agency, related to their activities on the Website, and especially for the breach of the obligations stipulated in this chapter.

Liability disclaimers

Slang will randomly perform reviews and checks on the Website. However, Slang will be exempt from liability when:

- There is suspension, interruption, or cut-off of the service due to corrective or preventive maintenance of the Website;
- there are cases of force majeure or fortuitous events attributable to nature, atmospheric conditions, high or low voltage in the electrical system, and others of a similar nature;
- there are viruses imported through the network or whatever their origin; or
- there is any damage to the software or hardware of the User by accessing the Website or advertising published on the Website.

Acceptance of terms and conditions

By using the Website or by providing express electronic acceptance of these terms and conditions, you express consent and full acceptance of these Terms.

Likewise, by performing any of the aforementioned activities, you declare being of legal age and having the legal capacity and the necessary powers to bind yourself in accordance with these terms and conditions, as well as to bind the company you represent.

In addition, it is important that you consult Slang's personal data processing policy (the "Policy"), which constitutes a complementary and integrated document to these terms and conditions. The Policy is available at the following URL: Slang — Privacy Policy \(slangapp.com\).

If you disagree with any of the elements contained in the terms and conditions, you must stop using the Website or cancel the service.

Violation of these terms and conditions

Slang may take any legal action necessary to remedy any violation of these Terms, including restricting access to this Website to certain Users.

Legislation applicable to the website

Both the Website and the services offered by Slang are governed by the laws of the State of Massachusetts.
